A Fine Lawn Creates an Atmosphere of Refinement

LAWN GRASS SEED

Tops in Quality

Especially Adapted to the Upper Mid-West

A fine lawn is the most important feature of the home grounds. A beautiful lawn not only adds to the value of the home but imparts an air of dignity and refinement. Nothing sets off the house so well as a properly made, and well kept lawn.

To maintain a good lawn, the regular feeding of fertilizer is necessary in spite of all the seed you may apply. Otherwise the lawn will gradually starve for want of plant food and take on a lifeless appearance; easily subject to winter-killing. Good seed and regular feeding will do wonders in keeping the lawn fresh and green. See special fertilizer page for lawn fertilizers.

Super Lawn Grass Seed

For over 58 years we have been authorities on mixing good Lawn Seed. The right formula is very important to produce a good, quick and permanent sod. Also, our reputation has been built on high germinating seed in our various mixtures. It is these many years of experience that assures you of super-quality seed, especially adapted to our upper mid-west climate conditions. You will marvel at the sturdy growth you will get from our Reliable Lawn Grass Mixture. Follow the planting directions in each package.

Gould's Reliable Shady Lawn Grass Seed

Where trees or houses shade the lawn the greater part of the day and keep out the sun, it is a problem to get grass to grow. Growing grass in shaded places seems at times almost hopeless, but this is often due to planting the wrong kind of seed. In Gould's Shady Lawn Grass we have combined a special mixture of those varieties of grass seed that do well in the shade. Sow at the rate of 1 pound to 150 square feet of new lawn.

We do not issue a separate Market Gardeners' catalog and price list, but you will note that we list larger amounts than the small gardener buys, and these quantity prices are intended for the market gardener. Special flower seed price list for florists will be sent on request.

BEETS

CULTURE. Any well-prepared light garden soil will produce good beets, although a rich, sandy loam brings the best results. Sow the seed about 1 inch deep in rows 15 to 24 inches apart. Annual Flower Seeds

CULTURE SUGGESTIONS FOR FLOWER SEEDS

Flower seeds should not be planted out before ground warms up. Before planting, soil should be worked up and enriched with fertilizer. Do not sow your seeds when ground is wet. A good rule is to cover seeds four to six times their diameter, which means that some varieties need merely to be pressed into the soil. Most seeds are planted too deeply. Press the earth firmly around the seed when planting. As plants come up, thin out to prevent crowding. Place supports around tall-growing varieties so that they will not be damaged by wind and rain.

STARTING INDOORS. In order to get earlier flowers and a longer blooming season, a number of annuals such as Antirrhinum or Snapdragon, Carnations, Celosia, Lobelia, Pansies, Petunias, Salpiglossis, Stocks, Verbenas and others had best be started indoors, or in cold frames.

GLADIOLUS

One of the finest and most gorgeous for cut flowers. And glads are easy to grow by following the simple cultural directions.

CULTURE. Glads thrive in any well drained soil. Plant 4 to 6 inches deep depending on size of bulb. Plant late April to June 15, at intervals of 7 to 10 days for continuous bloom till frost. For specimen spikes, plant six inches apart in rows where they will have full sun at least three fourths of the day. When planting bulbs, cover with two inches of soil, then as they continue to grow, keep adding earth to ground level, but do not cover sprouts completely. After the fifth leaf appears, give them one inch of water each week, unless rains add this amount. Before ground freezes dig bulbs and cut off yellow tops close to bulb. Place in shallow trays to dry out for about three weeks. Then remove old bulb and roots. Save new bulb and bulblets for next years' planting. Store in shallow trays not over four inches deep, in the coolest part of basement. Dust bulbs with DDT before storing, and again before planting.

DAHLIAS

The Dahlia is one of the most popular of garden flowers. Its flowers may be used for garden decorations, house decorations, bouquets, florists and exhibition.

CULTURE. An open, sunny location seems to favor them at all times. Dahlias can be planted any time after danger of frost is over, but do not plant too early. The Dahlia is a fall flower and if planted too early will commence to bloom in the hottest weather, and either blast in the bud or produce one-sided flowers.

Plant tuber 6 inches deep on its side, having sprout or eye facing upwards; cover with about two inches of soil. When sprouts are 6 inches high add more soil, making it level with surface. Cultivation is the principal requirement of the Dahlia.

CANNAS

Cannas make the best showing when planted in beds by themselves. The soil should be well fertilized and worked up thoroughly to a depth of 10 to 12 inches. Do not set out until all danger of frost is over; about June 1st here in the Northwest.

PEONIES

The ideal flower for the great Northwest since it endures the most intense cold without injury. The Peony is one of the most easily grown, and showiest of the perennial flowering plants. Conditions of the soil, location and cultivation are important factors in growing Peonies.

Conditions of the soil, location and cultivation are important factors in growing Peonies. Peonies may be planted in the spring during the month of April and the early part of May, or in September. Work the soil thoroughly to a depth of 8 or 10 inches, applying at the same time a generous amount of bone meal fertilizer, mixed well into the soil. Plant root in this prepared soil so that the crown will be about 1 inch below the surface. Press the soil firmly around the roots.

Peonies should not be planted any closer than 3 feet apart and should not be close to trees as the roots of the trees take from the soil the nourishing elements that are needed by the Peonies. Plant in a sunny location.

It is usually about the first week in April, when we have our large basement filled with thousands of rose bushes, fruit trees, ornamental trees, shrubs of all kinds, etc., adapted for our Upper mid-west climate. Drop in and see our fine display of sturdy nursery stock. . . . Also it is your gain to plant as early as frost is out of the ground and it is dry enough to dig.

Grape Vines—2-yr. Heavy Plants

Plant two or more varieties for proper pollination.

Grape vines are very easy to grow, and even under unfavorable conditions the vines will bear fruit, but good culture, pruning and spraying should be done when needed in order to get the best quality and yield.

AGAWAM. A large, dark red grape; pulp soft and sweet. Vines strong, hardy and productive. Ripens early. Mid-September. Each, 50c; 5 for $2.25; 10 for $4.00.

BETA. An excellent grape for Minnesota and the Northwest. The vines are as hardy as the wild grape, which means they do not require protection in the winter as many of the other varieties do. Fruit is black with blue and of the best quality to use for jelly and juice, as it has the wild grape flavor. Fruit is nearly as large as Concord, and a much better yielder in this climate. Ripens about the first of September. Each, 50c; 5 for $2.25; 10 for $4.00.

BLUE JAY. (Minn. No. 69.) This grape has very compact, large clusters of berries, about the same size as Concord. They are dull black and covered with a bluish bloom. When first colored and apparently ripe, they are rather acid, but if allowed to remain on the vine for 10 to 14 days longer, they become mild and pleasing in flavor. Also good for making juice and jelly. This variety needs to be planted near some other variety that will furnish pollen. Each, $1.00; 5 for $4.50.

CONCORD. Purplish black skin, berries medium size in compact bunches. Highly resistant to drought, insects and disease. Season medium late here in the Northwest. Semi-hardy in Minnesota. Cover in the fall. Each, 50c; 5 for $2.25; 10 for $4.00.

RED AMBER. (Minn. No. 45.) This red grape is considered by many as having the best quality of any. The vines are vigorous and clean in appearance. The flavor is very sweet and rather spicy and of exceptional quality. Each, $1.00; 5 for $4.50.

FIELD SEEDS

Prices are given on Special Field Seed Price List. See Yellow List enclosed with catalogue, or write or call for list.

Alfalfa

Sow 12 to 15 lbs. to the acre, drilled.

919 ALFALFA BLEND. A mixture of selected varieties of alfalfa seeds for better adaption and better crops in your area. Through a special process the "hard seed" content is greatly reduced, upping germination. Is fungicide treated to increase stands and give better yields. You are assured a purity and germination consistently higher than on other brands of mid-west alfalfa. Also more disease resistant.

SOUTHWESTERN. Non-winter hardy, ideal to plant with peas early in spring as nurse crop. You can get one cutting of hay in August and still have a good green manure to plow under in the fall. Costs much less than the price of hardy Alfalfa.

GRIMM. One of the oldest and best known of the winter hardy varieties, but is very susceptible to bacterial wilt and is losing favor because of this.

RANGER. One of the newest, resistant to bacterial wilt. Is also the best variety for winter hardiness. Yield about equal to Grimm. This variety now leads the alfalfa list.

Grasses—Cont'd

SUDAN GRASS. For hay and pasture crop it is necessary for the soil to warm up in the spring before planting. It may be sown as late as July or August but its season will then be quite short. It is usually big enough to pasture when five or six weeks old, or sooner if it gets 12 to 14 inches tall. It grows remarkably well during the hot dry weather of July and August. As a hay crop Sudan should be cut from the time the heads begin to appear until the seeds are in the soft, dough stage. The best hay is from the early cutting. If for hay, sow about 25 to 30 pounds to the acre broadcast. For silage, sow 10 pounds to the acre in rows.

REED CANARY GRASS. A hardy, perennial grass adapted to low lands where other grasses will not do well. It thrives in locations where the water table is practically at the surface of the soil all the time and above the surface part of the time. Will produce two crops a year after the first year. The hay is as good as Timothy and is relished by horses and cattle. Sow 4 to 6 pounds to the acre broadcast or 2 or 3 pounds with drill.

Clover Seed

Prices given on Special Yellow List.

MEDIUM RED CLOVER. This is the recognized standard of the clover family. It produces two crops each year. The first is generally harvested for hay when in full bloom. The second crop may be harvested for seed, cut for hay, or plowed under for fertilizer. Sow 6 to 12 pounds to the acre.

ALSIKE OR SWEDISH CLOVER. One of the hardiest varieties known. Will do better on moist land than any other clover. Suitable for either hay or pasture. When sown with other grasses, it forms a thick undergrowth and greatly increases the yield. It is frequently sown both with medium Red Clover and with Timothy. Quality of hay thus produced is excellent.

MAMMOTH RED CLOVER. This variety is grown mostly for pasture and for soiling. It is a very vigorous grower, but is not desirable for hay unless cut when quite young.

WHITE OR DUTCH CLOVER. A low close growing clover, with round white heads. Very fragrant and desirable for beautifying the lawn. It will stand close cutting and very rapidly throws up an abundance of leaves and blossoms. It is usually better to sow with other grasses. Does well on most any soil.

LADINO. Grows 10 to 14 in. tall. Leaves and flowers are two to four times the size of white clover. Principal use is high quality pastures. Should be grown with other grasses and legumes on fertile soil well supplied with moisture.

SWEET CLOVER, YELLOW BLOSSOM. This variety grows finer and more spreading than the white and is not so tall. It matures more quickly than the White Clover and for a second season the hay crop is probably preferable because of its finer stems.

HUBAM SWEET CLOVER. An annual white blossomed Sweet Clover which is popular in areas where Fall plowing is customary. It is less efficient than the biennial types as a nitrogen fixer but since it dies at the end of the first season, it presents no problem of eradication when Fall plowed as do the biennial types.

BIRDSFOOT TREFOIL. A rather short growing, long lived perennial legume not recommended where other Clovers do well, but of considerable value as a supplementary legume in pastures where soils are not so well adapted to Alfalfa and Ladino.

Grasses

Prices given on Special Yellow List.

KENTUCKY BLUE GRASS. Will outlive any other grasses for pasture or lawn, but should not be cut or pastured too closely in extremely hot, dry weather. The seed is very slow in germinating, therefore, it is advisable to plant with other varieties of quicker growing habits. Makes a sweet and nutritious pasture for all stock.

RYE GRASS, ANNUAL. Is a very quick growing grass and for that reason makes an excellent pasture. It thrives on rich, moist land, where from three to four cuttings may be made in a season. Grows very quickly and will stand close pasturage.

RED TOP. As a hay crop, Red Top is next to Timothy in importance. It will do the best on rather moist soil, but will thrive on most any soil. It is a good variety to sow with Timothy or Clover for meadow or pasture.

CRESTED WHEAT GRASS. One of the most drought-resistant grasses. Grows fast in cool weather, but is more or less dormant in extreme hot weather. When used for pasture, no amount of abuse seems to stop its growth. For hay and pasture, compares favorably with Bromus Inermis. Sow at rate of 12 lbs. to the acre.

ORCHARD GRASS. Is an early fibrous rooted perennial. Its rapid growth makes it very desirable for pasture. Withstands droughts better than most grasses. Will thrive in the shade such as in orchards and lanes. When closely cropped, it grows up quickly again.

ALTA FESCUE. A very deep-rooted perennial grass that stands dry weather extremely well. Does well in rich or poor soil. Blades are wider and lighter colored than Blue Grass. Germinates in 7 to 10 days. Used for pastures and lawns.

CHEWINGS FESCUE. A fine leaved perennial, somewhat wiry, of bright green color. Does well in shade. Germinates in 10 to 14 days. Used for lawns in shaded areas and pastures.

CREEPING RED FESCUE. Similar to Chewings Fescue but does not tend to bunch. It spreads by underground runners. It's a hardy perennial, germinating in 10 to 14 days. Use for lawns, fairways, pastures.

MEADOW FESCUE. Especially suited for pasture and is also fine for hay. Succeeds even in poor soil and will endure severe freezing. The hay is very nutritious and cattle thrive on it.

BROMUS INERMIS (Brome Grass). Its main points are its ability to control soil erosion, add humus to the soil, loosen the subsoil and serve as a good hay and pasture crop. Brome Grass is a long lived perennial which will grow well on any fertile soil. While ordinarily not grown for hay purposes it does compare favorably with Timothy in the yield and quality of hay. As a pasture grass either alone or in combination, it is palatable to all classes of livestock, is extremely hardy and drought resistant. When Bromus is seeded alone the use of 20 pounds of seed per acre is recommended and the seeding should be shallow—never over 1/4 to 1/2 inch except possibly in sandy soil.

TIMOTHY. As a hay crop Timothy is probably unsurpassed by any other grass. It is an ideal grass to be grown with Alsike. It is also valuable in pasture mixtures with other grasses and legumes. Sow 10 pounds of seed to the acre.

TIMOTHY AND ALSIKE MIXED. For those who prefer to sow Alsike Clover and Timothy together, we have a mixture that has the right proportions for growing a splendid hay crop.

Field Corn

See Yellow List for Prices

HYBRID SEED CORN is a first generation cross between inbred strains. Inbred strains are developed by continual inbreeding of selected plants for several generations over a period of better than 10 years. Yields of hybrid planted seed corn will average from 7 to 11 bushels per acre higher than the regular varieties. Hybrids possess greater resistance to lodging, greater resistance to drought and higher shelling percentages.

KINGSCROST HYBRID. This remarkable seed corn represents many years of extensive research aimed at a superior development for the 100 to 105 maturity zone. Kingscroft KS attained the seemingly impossible by combining into one hybrid a rare stalk breakage resistance, high yield, and earliness of maturity. No longer is it necessary for northern corn belt farmers to risk the hazards of growing later hybrids for the increased yield. Kingscroft KS developed on an entirely new hybridizing principle has demonstrated in official state trials that it can yield and surpass in standability leading hybrids which are as much as ten days later in maturity.

K F—HYBRID SEMI-DENT. A cross between flint and dent varieties, recommended for 80-day areas. Leafy, non-suckering tall plants, high ears and stalk strength insure fall standability.

HYBRID SILO. 107 days. Here is a corn for silage that will give you a maximum of yield. The quality of the ear corn and foliage is unsurpassed.

N. K. & Co.s ELEPHANT FODDER of the yellow dent type, but grows taller and more leafy than the average yellow dent corn, therefore producing a very heavy yield. See yellow price list for prices.

Oats

Prices given on Special Yellow List.

CULTURE. Sow oats at the rate of 2 to 2½ bushels to the acre, very early in the spring on a well prepared field with a modern grain drill. Deep seeding on heavy clay soil is often fatal to the crop. Two inches is deep enough on a fine, compact seed bed.

AJAX. An early White Oat variety introduced from Canada. Has moderate straw strength and good stem rust resistance, but only fair resistance to leaf rust and smut. Yields in the northern half of Minnesota and North Dakota have been very good. A very desirable variety for planting in the northern half of Wisc. and Minn.

BONDA. An early, stiff strawed variety having yellowish-white grain of superior bushel weight. It is resistant to stem rust, crown rust, smut. Recommended for Minn., Wisconsin, Iowa and Dakotas.

Wheat

Prices given on Special Yellow List.

Sow at the rate of 75-90 pounds to the acre.

HENRY. A Feed Wheat. A superior yielding wheat, is moderately resistant to black stem rust, and leaf rust, while moderately susceptible to scab and covered smut. Kernels are large and of soft texture as a rule.

MIDA SPRING WHEAT. A bearded variety of Spring wheat. Is early in maturity, has a stiff straw, and is resistant to leaf rust.

LEE BLUE TAG SPRING WHEAT. Early, bearded, moderately resistant to bunt, leaf or stem rust. Little susceptible to loose smut. Short medium strength straw.

Millet

Prices Given on Special Yellow List.

Millet is grown almost exclusively in these northern states for hay only, and we find that southern grown millet seed will produce a much heavier crop of finer hay than that grown from northern seed. We therefore offer only true southern grown seed in our millets. Sow at the rate of 25 to 30 lbs. to the acre for hay; for seed, about 15 pounds.

EARLY FORTUNE. One of the proso millets that matures in 50 to 60 days after sowing. Seeds reddish brown, head compact. Sow 25 pounds to the acre.

GERMAN. The most popular of all millets. Should be cut in full bloom, when it is most tender and sweet. Sow about 35 pounds to the acre.

HUNGARIAN. Is favored by some on account of its rapid growth, maturing about a week or ten days earlier than German Millet. Makes excellent hay.

JAPANESE. It grows from five to nine feet in height, and produces enormous crops of fine hay. If sown broadcast, sow fifteen to twenty pounds to the acre; in drills ten pounds per acre. It does best on low, moist ground.

SIBERIAN. Earlier than either German or Hungarian. Very valuable for the North. Is hardy and drought resistant. Excellent for hay. Not subject to rust.

Speltz

While not quite equal to oats, it makes a fair horse feed. It yields more than wheat or barley and even the straw if cut slightly green has a good amount of feeding value. Speltz makes a fine feed for hogs and poultry. Sow in drills at the rate of 1½ to 2 bushels to the acre. Prices are given on special field seed price list.

Soy Beans

See Yellow List for Prices.

As a hay crop, soy beans are higher in protein content than clover and equal to alfalfa hay. Do not plant too early; about corn planting time or later.

CULTURE. For silage, the usual amount of corn and soy beans added at the rate of 10 pounds per acre. For hay, plant 60 to 90 pounds per acre in rows 20 to 36 inches apart. Harvest when pods are well filled and leaves commence to turn. Allow to wilt in swath, then rake up and place in small cocks. Curing sometimes requires several days and should be thorough. Soy beans drop their leaves quite easily and should be cut before any number have fallen. They should be handled as little as possible to retain the most leaves.

Field Peas

Prices given on Special Yellow List.

Are not only profitable as a dry shelled crop, but may also be used for hay, pasture, or soiling with excellent results. Peas are second only to clover in their soil enriching properties and can be grown under almost any condition. Seed 2½ to 3 bushels to the acre.

CANADA YELLOW. The standard field pea of the Northwest. A dry pea for cooking, or for pigeons.

Sunflower

MAMMOTH RUSSIAN. Are especially useful in the poultry run, as the large leaves furnish shade for young chicks; also, the seeds make a good addition to the poultry ration. They are very rich in oil and protein and are splendid to feed during the moult and winter months. They are also valuable for hogs. Sow 2 to 3 lbs. to the acre. Prices given on Yellow price list.

Buckwheat

Buckwheat can be sown as late as July and still produce a crop, or it may also be plowed under for soiling. Sow ½ to 1 bushel per acre, as late as possible, and still have crop well developed before severe frosts occur.

COMMON. Seed is a rich dark brown and larger than Silver Hull. It resists drought and blight very well and produces seed early. Refer to Yellow Lists for prices.

Barley

Prices given on Special Yellow List.

Plant as early in spring as a good seedbed can be prepared; sow 1½ to 2 bushels per acre. Sow Barley on well drained, loam soil. Apply 200 to 300 pounds of fertilizer per acre where needed.

MOORE. A six-row, white, smooth awned variety with a moderately compact head. It is suitable for either malting or feed. Yields slightly more than Wisc. 38 and the straw lodges somewhat less. Moderately resistant to spot blotch and mildew but is susceptible to leaf rust, stipe, loose and covered smut.

Flax

See Special Yellow List for prices.

Flax can be sown only about once in six or seven years on the same ground. It is a splendid crop to grow on new breaking. Helps to prepare the soil for future crops, leaving ground in a nice mellow condition. Before sowing, it is especially important to have the ground well firmed. Sow 25 to 30 pounds to the acre, as early as possible and yet avoid the last killing spring frost.

RED WING. A variety recommended for Central and Southern Minnesota. Red Wing was developed by the Minn. Agric. Sta.

B 5128. Large seeded, late maturing, tall growing and high yielder. Similar to Bison, moderately wilt resistant and excellent rust resistant.

Rye

Prices Given on Special Yellow List.
